

Another Sabbatical Family from Vancouver

September 2009 ~ December 2009

Hornby Island Community School is a fantastic place to learn. Our two boys leave for school excited and come home happy. The staff is positive and caring, and this friendly atmosphere is reflected in the kind and respectful behavior students show to one another, not only in the school, but also on the school grounds and in the community. We are amazed that this little school can offer the variety it does, from sports, arts, strong academics, field trips to after-school programs. Because of the small class sizes, students get the individual attention that most public or private schools cannot offer. We are thrilled for our own kids and recommend Hornby Island Community School to anyone looking for an excellent all-around education for their child or children.
